Urban Teacher Residency (UTR) Partnership - In partnership with the New Visions for Public Schools and the NYC Department of Education, Queens College offers a Trans-B alternative teacher certification program for select teaching majors. Candidates take courses at Queens College toward a master's degree in adolescent education and apply what is learned in real time, while working as a part-time teacher in residency, hired by the NYC DOE to work with students throughout a 24-month degree program. Professors and coaches work together to provide personalized, targeted support as candidates master the curriculum, instruction, and assessment on the job. UTR residents benefit from a personal teaching mentor, deferred tuition, job-placement assistance, and ongoing support after the residency year.

Enrollment and Program Completers

THIS PAGE INCLUDES:

>> Enrollment and Program Completers

In each of the following categories, provide the total number of individuals enrolled in teacher preparation programs for an initial teaching credential and the subset of individuals enrolled who also completed the program during the academic year.

Teachers Prepared

On this page, enter the number of program completers by the subject area in which they were prepared to teach, and by their academic majors. Note that an individual can be counted in more than one academic major and subject area. For example, if an individual is prepared to teach Elementary Education and Mathematics, that individual should be counted in both subject areas. If no individuals were prepared in a particular academic major or subject area, you may leave the cell blank. Please use the "Other" category sparingly, if there is no similar subject area or academic major listed. In these cases, you should use the text box to describe the subject area(s) and/or the academic major(s) counted in the "Other" category.

If your IHE offers both traditional and alternative programs, be sure to enter the program completers in the appropriate reports. For the traditional report, provide only the program completers in traditional programs within the IHE. For the alternative report, provide only the program completers for the alternative programs within the IHE.

After entering the teachers prepared data, save the page using the floating save box at the bottom of the page.

THIS PAGE INCLUDES:

- >> Teachers Prepared by Academic Major

Key terms in this section are listed below. Click on the link to view the definition(s) in the glossary.

- Academic Major

Teachers Prepared by Subject Area

Please provide the number of teachers prepared by subject area for academic year 2021-22.

For the purposes of this section, number prepared means the number of program completers. "Subject area" refers to the subject area(s) an individual has been prepared to teach. An individual can be counted in more than one subject area. If no individuals were prepared in a particular subject area, please leave that cell blank. (§205\(b\)\(1\)\(H\))

What are CIP Codes?

No teachers prepared in academic year 2021-22

If your program has no teachers prepared, check the box above and leave the table below blank (or clear responses already entered).

What are CIP codes? The Classification of Instructional Programs (CIP) provides a taxonomic scheme that supports the accurate tracking and reporting of fields of study and program completions activity. CIP was originally developed by the U.S. Department of Education's National Center for Education Statistics (NCES) in 1980, with revisions occurring in 1985, 1990, and 2000 (<https://nces.ed.gov/ipeds/cipcode/Default.aspx?y=55>).

Teachers Prepared by Academic Major

Please provide the number of teachers prepared by academic major for academic year 2021-22. For the purposes of this section, number prepared means the number of program completers. "Academic major" refers to the actual major(s) declared by the program completer. An individual can be counted in more than one academic major. If no individuals were prepared in a particular academic major, please leave that cell blank. (§205\(b\)\(1\)\(H\))

Please note that the list of majors includes several "Teacher Education" majors, as well as several noneducation majors. Please use care in entering your majors to ensure education-specific majors and non-education majors are counted correctly. For example, if an individual majored in Chemistry, that individual should be counted in the "Chemistry" academic major category rather than the "Teacher Education–Chemistry" category.

What are CIP Codes?

Does this teacher preparation provider grant degrees upon completion of its programs?

- Yes
 No

Program Assurances

THIS PAGE INCLUDES:

>> Program Assurances

Respond to the following assurances. Teacher preparation programs should be prepared to provide documentation and evidence, when requested, to support the following assurances. (§205\(a\)\(1\)\(A\)\(iii\); §206\(b\))

Program Assurances

Note: This section is preloaded from the prior year's IPRC.

1. Program preparation responds to the identified needs of the local educational agencies or States where the program completers are likely to teach, based on past hiring and recruitment trends.

- Yes
 No

2. Preparation is closely linked with the needs of schools and the instructional decisions new teachers face in the classroom.

- Yes
 No

3. Prospective special education teachers are prepared in core academic subjects and to instruct in core academic subjects.

- Yes
 No
 Program does not prepare special education teachers

4. Prospective general education teachers are prepared to provide instruction to students with disabilities.

- Yes
 No

5. Prospective general education teachers are prepared to provide instruction to limited English proficient students.

- Yes
 No

6. Prospective general education teachers are prepared to provide instruction to students from low-income families.

- Yes
 No

7. Prospective teachers are prepared to effectively teach in urban and rural schools, as applicable.

- Yes
 No

8. Describe your institution's most successful strategies in meeting the assurances listed above:

We adhere to EPP's conceptual framework, specifically educating candidates to teach in diverse urban communities, focusing on values of excellence, ethics, and equity. In addition, we are accredited by CAEP (Council for the Accreditation of Educator Preparation). The EPP has built strong collaboration with partner schools in New York City Public Schools. Our closest partner NYC district is District 24, which is set in an urban setting with a high population of racially and ethnically diverse students and families, students with special needs, and linguistically diverse students. District 24 provides a clinical context to prepare future teachers to educate low-income families and teacher and work in diverse communities. For our candidates to engage in a variety of clinical experiences. To ensure the quality assurance of our programs and preparation of candidates, we have reviewed Educating All Students (EAS) data and developed and created workshops to improve candidates' knowledge, skills, and disposition on educating diverse student population with a focus on special education and linguistically diverse student populations. These workshops supplement the special education course that is a required part of the EPP curriculum. The EPP has a P-12 Advisory Board that is composed of our pre-K- 12th grade district partners. The P-12 Advisory Board plays a critical role in identifying hiring trends and the high needs and challenges of teachers in the field.

Annual Goals: Mathematics

Each institution of higher education (IHE) that conducts a traditional teacher preparation program (including programs that offer any ongoing professional development programs) or alternative route teacher preparation program, and that enrolls students receiving Federal assistance under this Act, shall set annual quantifiable goals for increasing the number of prospective teachers trained in teacher shortage areas designated by the Secretary or by the state educational agency, including mathematics, science, special education, and instruction of limited English proficient students.

Annual Goals: Instruction of Limited English Proficient Students

Each institution of higher education (IHE) that conducts a traditional teacher preparation program (including programs that offer any ongoing professional development programs) or alternative route teacher preparation program, and that enrolls students receiving Federal assistance under this Act, shall set annual quantifiable goals for increasing the number of prospective teachers trained in teacher shortage areas designated by the Secretary or by the state educational agency, including mathematics, science, special education, and instruction of limited English proficient students.

Assessment Pass Rates

THIS PAGE INCLUDES:

>> Assessment Pass Rates

The pass rates table is populated from files provided by the testing company or state. The table provides information on the performance of the students in your teacher preparation program on each teacher credential assessment used by your state. In cases where a student has taken a given assessment more than once, the highest score on that test is used. In the case of a teacher preparation program with fewer than 10 scores reported on any single initial teacher credential assessment during an academic year, the program shall collect and publish information with respect to an average pass rate and scaled score on each state credential assessment taken over a three-year period. \(\$205\(a\)\(1\)\(B\)\)

Please note that this page does not have an edit feature as the pass rates have already been through several rounds of verification. If you identify an error, please contact RTI's Title II Support Center and your testing company representative.

On this page, review the questions regarding your program's use of technology, and update as needed.

Note: This section is preloaded from the prior year's IPRC.

Use of Technology

1. Provide the following information about the use of technology in your teacher preparation program. Please note that choosing 'yes' indicates that your teacher preparation program would be able to provide evidence upon request. (§205\(a\)\(1\)\(F\))

Does your program prepare teachers to:

- a. integrate technology effectively into curricula and instruction

 Yes

 No

- b. use technology effectively to collect data to improve teaching and learning

 Yes

 No

- c. use technology effectively to manage data to improve teaching and learning

 Yes

 No

- d. use technology effectively to analyze data to improve teaching and learning

 Yes

 No

2. Provide a description of the evidence that your program uses to show that it prepares teachers to integrate technology effectively into curricula and instruction, and to use technology effectively to collect, manage, and analyze data in order to improve teaching and learning for the purpose of increasing student academic achievement. Include a description of the evidence your program uses to show that it prepares teachers to use the principles of universal design for learning, as applicable. Include planning activities and a timeline if any of the four elements listed above are not currently in place.

The use of technology is integrated throughout EPP. Our Queens College classrooms are equipped with Smartboards, projectors, and hybrid technology. Our teacher preparation courses integrate a technology course in which candidates are asked to examine and integrate technology as a tool for curriculum and instruction. Teacher candidates gain knowledge and experience to incorporate technology into their classroom activities. A wide range of technologies are utilized including Smartboards, PowerPoint, hybrid and online courses, Blackboard, online surveys, computers, video flip cameras, tablets, etc.. Our programs have supported these technologies by providing training to full-time and adjunct faculty. In addition to the regular use of these technologies in all our courses, we evolve in how we integrate topics, like computer science, computational thinking, and artificial intelligence, into our program coursework. The Elementary and Early Childhood Education Department received a significant grant to prepare teachers to teach coding and computational thinking. The Secondary Education and Youth Services Department created a fully online program on informational technology in the classroom and is in the process of creating an advanced certificate in computer science. These programs are designed to support our candidates in effectively integrating technology to improve teaching and learning. EPP candidates use a portfolio system, Anthology Portfolio, from the point of entry into a program. Candidates use Anthology to collect and manage their work. Candidates receive feedback, as well as reflect on their teaching and future planning through the portfolio system. Candidates are also trained in the use of specialized software. For instance, music education candidates are trained in SmartMusic. The EPP collects and analyzes candidate data through the portfolio system. Data on candidate learning and the use of technology at clinical sites are collected, analyzed, and used to drive decisions regarding clinical supervision. These data inform future clinical placements and drive decisions regarding curriculum.

Teacher Training

THIS PAGE INCLUDES:

>> Teacher Training

Provide the following information about your teacher preparation program.

(§205(a)(1)(G))

Note: This section is preloaded from the prior year's IPRC.

Teacher Training

1. Provide a description of the activities that prepare general education teachers to:

a. Teach students with disabilities effectively

All candidates in initial certification programs are required to take a Special Education course during their program progression. ECPSE 350/ECPSE 550 prepares teacher education candidates with the knowledge, skills, and dispositions necessary to provide instruction that will promote the participation and progress of students with disabilities in the general education curriculum and prepares candidates with competencies to work collaboratively with colleagues. Coursework focuses on the historical and sociological treatment of people with disabilities, special education law, adapting curriculum and instruction, understanding Individualized Education Programs (IEPs), participating in IEP meetings, and advocacy and collaboration are also addressed. Candidates are provided with multiple opportunities to engage in reflective practice regarding the implications of course. The EPP collects and analyzes Educating All Students (EAS) data to ensure that our candidates complete the EPP programs with an understanding of teaching students with disabilities. Based on the data, the EPP has created a supplemental workshop to support our candidates' knowledge, skills, and dispositions in this area.

b. Participate as a member of individualized education program teams, as defined in section 614(d)(1)(B) of the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act.

The historical and sociological treatment of people with disabilities, special education law, adapting curriculum and instruction, understanding Individualized Education Programs (IEPs), participating in IEP meetings, and advocacy and collaboration are addressed in ECPSE 350/550. Candidates are provided with multiple opportunities to engage in reflective practice regarding the implications of course.

c. Effectively teach students who are limited English proficient.

Candidates are required to take course work that is intended to promote their understanding of language development, multilingual, multicultural, and biliteracy issues in education. Candidates learn about the nature of language acquisition, English language proficiency for academic purposes, cross-cultural understanding, second language development, and strategies for teaching subject matter knowledge to English Language Learners (ELL). Course content focuses on the characteristics and needs of ELL student populations and the literacy demands of content curricula in schools. The EPP collects and analyzes Educating All Students (EAS) data to ensure that our candidates complete the EPP programs with an understanding of teaching linguistically diverse students. Based on the data, the EPP has created a supplemental workshop to support our candidates' knowledge, skills, and dispositions, in this area.

2. Does your program prepare special education teachers?

- Yes
 No

If yes, provide a description of the activities that prepare special education teachers to:

a. Teach students with disabilities effectively

The Special Education program prepares candidates to work with children whose disabilities range from mild to severe. Upon completion of their program, graduates are eligible for initial New York State Certification in Special Education. All special education courses contain field-based assignments, in which candidates are required to fulfill designated hours (as specified in each course) in educational settings that serve students with disabilities. Candidates are expected to demonstrate professional behaviors and dispositions at their field sites.

b. Participate as a member of individualized education program teams, as defined in section 614(d)(1)(B) of the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act.

All candidates in the special education programs, including MSED, Post Master's, and MAT programs, are required to complete an internship in severe disabilities. This field-based course is designed to provide candidates with individualized supervision and regularly scheduled group seminars focused on educating students with severe intellectual disabilities, including students on the autism spectrum. This course offers an integrated approach to teaching which combines both knowledge and practice into a meaningful and comprehensive context. Each candidate is placed in a setting with an experienced teacher of special education and will participate in all classroom activities as assigned by the supervising teacher, the school, and college professors. Faculty will observe the candidate teaching a lesson at the internship site a minimum of three times.

c. Effectively teach students who are limited English proficient.

Candidates are required to take course work that is intended to promote their understanding of language development, multilingual, multicultural, and biliteracy issues in education. Candidates learn about the nature of language acquisition, English language proficiency for academic purposes, cross-cultural understanding, second language development, and strategies for teaching subject matter knowledge to English Language Learners (ELL). Course content focuses on the characteristics and needs of ELL student populations and the literacy demands of content curricula in schools.

Contextual Information

Please use this space to provide any additional information that describes your teacher preparation program(s). You may also attach information to this report card (see below). The U.S. Department of Education is especially interested in any evaluation plans or interim or final reports that may be available.

Upon its founding in 1937, Queens College was hailed by the residents of New York City's five boroughs as "the college of the future," an idea that has become a hallmark of its identity and an organizing force in its ongoing evolution. Today, Queens College is one of 11 four-year colleges in the CUNY system, which is the largest urban university system in the nation. The college is consistently ranked among the leading institutions in the country for the quality of its academic programs and student achievement. The School of Education as an EPP provider is one of four main Schools in the College and is one of the largest schools of education in CUNY with the mission to prepare compassionate professionals to work in diverse urban communities. The core values of the EPP center on Equity, Excellence, and Ethics (the 3E's). These values create a unifying thread across its programs which are organized into three School of Education departments: Secondary Education and Youth Services, Elementary and Early Childhood Education and Educational and Community Programs. The EPP has several programs located in other departments and schools in the college. These departments are Graduate School of Library and Information Studies (GSLIS) in the School of Social Sciences; the Music Education Program in the Aaron Copeland School of Music (MUSIC) in the School of Arts and Humanities; the Physical Education Program and Consumer Sciences Education Program in the Family, Nutrition and Exercise Sciences Department (FNES) in the School of Mathematics and Natural Sciences; and TESOL in the Department of Linguistics and Communication Disorders (LCD) in the School of Arts and Humanities. The EPP is defined as the organizing structure for the registered academic programs leading to New York State Certification, preparing teachers and other school professionals, and is led by the Dean of the School of Education. These departments and programs share a common mission to prepare compassionate professionals to work in diverse urban communities. In total, the EPP supports 150 registered New York State programs. The EPP has the 3rd most popular undergraduate major (elementary education) and two of the top graduate majors (special education and early childhood education). The EPP is accredited by the Council for the Accreditation of Educator Preparation. The EPP has strong professional and community partnerships. The EPP strives to meet the professional development needs of its students, alumni, and members of the schools and organizations in the communities it serves. Collaborating with over 300 partners, most of which are located throughout the borough of Queens and on Long Island, they provide a rich array of aligned academic and professional experiences for their candidates. Committed to educating underrepresented populations, the EPP houses two diversity programs. The Teacher Opportunity Corp (TOC) aims to develop highly effective and caring teachers, who are culturally responsive in creating a social justice curriculum and teaching practices in K-12 schools that addresses the needs of our diverse school communities in Queens. The program provides mentoring to participants by Department of Education master teachers, in a 10-months internship. The duration of the internship is equivalent to 200 hours for 2 semesters or at minimum, students commit to 5 hours per week interning at a school site. NYC Men Teach is a partnership between the Office of the Mayor, the New York City Department of Education and CUNY which aims to improve the diversity of the NYC teaching workforce by adding 1,000 male teachers of color into the teacher pipeline by 2018. NYC Men Teach at CUNY builds upon our commitment to educate and support students in urban schools, and highlights the importance of deep clinical, culturally relevant, and restorative practice.
